To

MISS LUCIA GOODWIN

who has worked faithfully and unceasingly toward retaining the splendid democratic spirit and fine standard of work among the members of this class, we the Class of '22 dedicate this volume of the Eos.

Foreword

The spirit of co-operation among themselves and with the faculty has been manifested by the Class of Nineteen Twenty-two by this volume of the Eos. The staff has endeavored to make the publication worthy of the Class which supports it, and we sincerely hope that it will be a factor in keeping alive the interest of the class and the student body as a whole in the events of the year 1921-1922.

We especially wish to show our appreciation for the help given us by Mr. Rea, who has directed the work; Miss Rowe, who has supervised the work of the literary department; and Miss Ethel Kallstedt, who has aided in the arrangement of material.

Senior Class History

Four more years have slipped by without our hardly knowing it! Yet they have not passed without leaving something by which to remember each of them.

How well we remember our Freshman year! To some, those first few days, which we had imagined would be so delightful, proved more refreshing than enlightening. However, we received all that as a part of our High School education and at once took up our work in the true West High spirit. Two noteworthy events marked our Freshman year as successful: first, in spite of our large numbers we were second to go over the top in the Thrift Stamp Drive, being beaten only by the Seniors, and second, we tied the Seniors for first prize for the presentation of a "stunt" at the Junior party.

Our Sophomore year was little different from that of any Sophomore Class, but it seemed to us of infinitely greater importance. To start the year right, a Sophomore was elected Cheer Leader. We were quite elated over the choice because that position is nearly always occupied by a Senior. At the Junior party the Sophomores won first prize for giving the best "stunt". At the Sophomore party, each class and the faculty presented an act. It was one of the most interesting and most successful parties ever given at West High!

Then came our Junior year! Debate had now assumed a plane of such importance as to entice five members of our Class to become debaters. The "Junior Movie", managed by Elizabeth George, Lester Ball, and Malcolm Jones, was the greatest success of the year. It was a great undertaking, but as every Junior co-operated in the selling of tickets, it was made a huge success.

All too soon we came to the stage when we were called "dignified Seniors" by the under-classmen. Early in the year we elected Malcolm Jones, President; Margaret Hopkins, Vice-President; Hopkins Peffers, Secretary; and Keith Paxton, Treasurer. It is now high time to recognize athletics, both girls' and boys'. The girls' basketball team did very commendable work especially in the Junior year when they won the championship of the interclass tournament. With such types

At the same time, the fact that the Mg^{2+} concentration in the water is low (0.0001 M) and that the Mg^{2+} concentration in the soil is high (0.001 M) suggests that the Mg^{2+} concentration in the soil is the controlling factor for the Mg^{2+} concentration in the water.

As the Q-value is a function of the P-value, it is possible to generate Q-values from P-values. In this case, the Q-value is calculated as $Q = -\log_{10}(P)$, where P is the P-value. The Q-value is then used to calculate the Q-value threshold, which is the Q-value corresponding to the P-value threshold. The Q-value threshold is then used to filter the results, keeping only those with Q-values greater than or equal to the Q-value threshold.

Then the \mathcal{O}_K -module $\mathcal{O}_K \oplus \mathcal{O}_K$ is isomorphic to \mathcal{O}_K by the isomorphism $\mathcal{O}_K \oplus \mathcal{O}_K \rightarrow \mathcal{O}_K$ that by the unit ϵ gives an isomorphism $\mathcal{O}_K \oplus \mathcal{O}_K \rightarrow \mathcal{O}_K$.

Methodological issues are addressed in the chapters on the history of the field, the development of the field, and the future of the field.

Class Song

There is a song we love to sing
 About our dear West High.
 A song of loyalty and praise
 Before we say good-bye.
 How gladly we recall the days
 Of High School work and play
 And now the time has come to part
 We wish that we could stay.

Oh, we the Class of '22
 Will shield your precious name
 And stay the foes that may appear
 To thwart your noble aim
 But as we leave these days behind
 And bid our friends adieu
 We often will recall to mind
 The days at West High School

CHORUS

Oh, West Aurora
 We will ever be true
 To the Red and the Blue
 Oh, West Aurora
 Let us give three cheers for Old West High
 Oh, West Aurora
 May we honor your name
 May we cherish your fame
 Oh, West Aurora
 For you we will do or die

Junior Class History

This year, so full of happy events, has passed, and as we look back, turning the pages of our memory, we recall with pleasure many occurrences.

As hopeful and industrious juniors we entered school last September determined to reach the top of the ladder, if possible.

To begin with, we elected Earl Nelson, President of our class, Alvin M. [unclear], Vice President, and Leshe Talmadge, Secretary and Treasurer. With these leaders to guide us, we were filled with enthusiasm and knew that nothing short of our best efforts would do.

The football season claimed our attention for a time, and we had reason to be proud of our entrants on the field, namely, Schropel, Jones, Talmadge and Nelson. Earl Nelson covered himself with glory and was elected Captain of our football team for next year.

After the football season closed basketball became the popular sport. In this "peppy" indoor game we were well represented by Spencer Flemming, our next year's captain, by Doane, and our very able player Cigrand. In the inter-scholastic tournaments, both the girls and boys from our Junior class were victors, of which fact we are especially proud. The members of the junior girls' basketball team were Genevieve Tanner, Genevieve Healy, Clara Kurns, Martha [unclear], Ada Waudley.

Next in sports comes track, in which we were represented by Doane, Palmer, Jones, Talmadge, Armstrong, and Schropel.

Athletics, of course, gives the necessary animus to our school life, and our interest and zealous support did not lag during the entire season.

Among our social activities we recall our very joyous and successful Christmas party. The school was entertained in the Assembly by a stunt of Mrs. Ruggles and her family preparing for, and going to, a Christmas Party given at the home of a wealthy family named Bird. Helen Young was interpreter, Kathleen Esser took the part of Mrs. Ruggles.

We gave a sandwich sale in order to raise money for the Junior Prom., and realized about twenty-five dollars on it.

In debate our class was represented by Edgar Stevens, Chauncey Jones, and Helen Young, and in extemporaneous speaking by Helen Young.

We are now looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the Junior Prom. and with so many willing workers to push it forward it cannot fail to go.

Sophomore Class History

Like all Sophomore classes we have had a placid and uneventful year. Our advisors called a class meeting a few weeks after school began for the purpose of electing officers. James Curtin was made president; Max Engleson, Vice-President; Robert Crane, Secretary and Treasurer.

The class is proud of the showing in football and basketball. Stare, Turble Hunter, Schludecker, Fleming, Robotham, Crane and Clancy upheld the class record. In the interclass basketball games the boys' and girls' teams proved themselves good losers.

Our class was well represented in the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. The Boys' Glee Club carried off first honors in the County Music Contest.

On St. Patrick's Day we entertained the whole school at a party, which was voted a great success. Music was given by Sybil Hale and James Pompa. Members of Miss Corey's Public Speaking Class presented "The Neighbors", a very interesting comedy. After the program the school enjoyed dancing.

Although we have achieved little this year we resolve that in the next two years we will be most successful.

Freshmen History

We, the Freshman of 1921-1922, entered high school one hundred ninety-six strong. Being greatly frightened at the thought of the ridicule which we would be subjected to, we were surprised, as well as delighted, to find we were treated very courteously by all. We passed through the Freshman year under the guidance of Miss Rowe, Mrs. Shepard, and Miss Ballard.

After several months of school in which time we became acquainted, we held our first class meeting electing as President, Thomas Benbow; Vice-President, Donald McCollum; Treasurer, Alfred Hoepe; and Marion Koester, Secretary.

We have taken part in many of the activities of the high school. Our proudest achievement was in debate; we succeeded in having a Freshman, Marion Drever, on the regular debating team. We were also well represented in several programs given under the supervision of Miss Irons, Miss Casey, and Miss Cory. In athletics our representation was small, those being out for basketball, football, and track were Kenneth May, Charles Young, Frank Populorum, Stephen Wilkinson, Melburn Potter, and John Fries.

On St. Patrick's day, March 17th, we entertained the entire school at a costume party; everyone from the faculty to the band, appeared in costume and everyone entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion. The St. Patrick's program, consisting of two selections from the orchestra, an original poem by Iole Scudder, an Irish jig by three Freshmen girls, culminated in the one-act Irish play, "Mrs. Pat and the Law" given by the following cast:

Mrs. Pat	Estelle Snow
Pat	Martin Zidell
Jimmy	Stewart Erickson
Miss Carroll	Jean Salisbury
John Bing	John Hall

The excellence of the presentation of the play showed the hard work and time given it by the members of the cast and the directors. After the grand march led by the four winners of costume prizes, we, with our guests, adjourned to the lower hall, where we danced the hours away.

We feel justified in saying that we are not ashamed of our record but we hope to receive many more honors in the remaining years of our high school life in West Aurora.

First Prize in Poetry Contest

Amid the rousing cheers of youth's song
Thou art the place we picture in our song
Once in thy vast domain our faces be
With smiles that prove to thee we see thy light
A clear, bright light that thou canst give
Set like a jewel in a desert land
A place where our ambitions must expand
And grow as from the new to fullest bloom
We love thee more than we can say, West High
Yet we can part from thee and leave behind
And more, we can forever from thy flame
Go with the happiness with which we
To seek its guiding light for evermore
For we will follow thy light which will flame

William H. Campton, Jr., Solves a Problem

First Prize in Short Story Contest

William H. Campton, Jr., stared with unseeing eyes out of the nursery window. It was unbelievable! To think that he, William H. Campton, Jr., had been called a baby! And by Cracky too! Cracky with his fascinating long ragged trousers. Cracky with his bundle of newspapers, Cracky, who sold papers on the corner, had called him a baby. Something must be done about it at once. But what? What, indeed? He turned and looked around the nursery. Toys here, toys there, toys everywhere, but he would willingly have given them all away if only Cracky did not think him a baby. If only he, like Cracky, could sell papers on the corner! He would ask Cracky—but Cracky thought him a baby. Why? William walked across the room, and for about the second time in his life surveyed himself closely in the mirror. A light-haired, brown-eyed boy, wearing a brown linen suit, brown shoes, and brown stockings, stared solemnly back at him. He had always associated babies with pink ribbons, white dresses, and fussy little bonnets. At least that was the way they looked in the park. Most certainly there was not a pink ribbon, nor a white dress, nor a fussy little bonnet anywhere on him. Then why, oh why, had Cracky called him a baby?

At this moment his thoughts were interrupted by a shrill voice calling, "Master William! Master William!"

A sudden thought flashed through his mind. Yes, maybe that was it. Maybe Miss Hartwell was the cause of it. What was it Cracky had said? Something about being tied to Miss Hartwell's apron strings. That was another of Cracky's sayings that he could not quite understand. How could he be tied to her apron strings when she wore no apron?

"Master William!" came the voice again, and then Miss Hartwell herself came flying in. "Why didn't you answer me? It's time to walk in the park now and you must take your bath and change your suit. Come right away." With this parting injunction she hustled back to the next room, very much in the fashion of the bad fairy in the Fairy tale book. To be sure, he had told her once that she walked like Mala, the wicked fairy, and she had said very crossly that there weren't such things as fairies. But Cracky had said there were fairies. And Cracky knew! That momentous question remained, as yet, partly unsettled. Of course Miss Hartwell was the cause of it. There was no doubt of that left in his mind now. But what to do about it was a perplexing problem. Then—suddenly if Miss Hartwell was the cause of it, as he believed she was, he must either get her away from him or else get himself away from her. Undoubtedly the latter was the safest course. So, snatching his sweater from a chair, he sped through the door leading into the hall, down the hallway, down the stairs, and through several rooms before he paused for breath. He knew that if he went out by the front door someone would see him, so he stepped to the sun parlor, opened the door, and breathed a sigh of relief as he closed it softly behind him. Obviously the thing to do was to go to Cracky, tell him that he was rid of Miss Hartwell forever, and that he, William H. Campton, Jr., was therefore no longer a baby. After that he did not know what he would do. He resolved inwardly never to return to Miss Hartwell. He supposed his father might feel a little sorry—still his father never bothered about him anyway. But Cracky would know what to do. Oh yes, Cracky would know what to do!

At last he was free! He ran down the garden walk leading to the street back of the house. How many times he had come down this same walk before, but always accompanied by Miss Hartwell. How different it was to be one's own master! And Cracky—How proud Cracky would be of him! Ah—there was the park—there was the bench—the very bench where Miss Hartwell was accustomed to sit while supposedly he played not too far away. But that one day, that one wonderful day, when he had happened to stray around the bushes, 'way down at the end of the path and had caught his first glimpse of Cracky; and, wonder of wonders, Cracky had deigned to speak to him. And after that—William grinned to himself softly as he thought of how Miss Hartwell had sat day by day reading a book, supposing of course that William was playing quietly around as was his wont, while really—he was way down 'round the bushes talking to Cracky. His face clouded as he thought of the day Miss Hartwell had appeared. How angry she had been to find him talking to what she called "common little street boys." Of course he had borne it all docilely, for never before today had he dared to interfere with Miss Hartwell's rigid discipline. But now! Now he was free! He ran on down the park path. It seemed as if he would never reach the end. Only yesterday it was that he had come sobbing up the path because Cracky had said that he was a baby and couldn't take care of himself, only to be punished severely by Miss Hartwell for talking again to Cracky. There was the end of the path! There were the bushes! He pushed them eagerly aside, only to find—why—as Cracky!

"Shure an ye can't be sellin' your newspapers this mornin', Cracky, me boy. An it's enough that oi have to do without takin'—Cracky!! Don't you dare to be gettin' up!" Mrs. O'Brien crossed the dingy little kitchen to peer into Cracky's eyes. "Oh Cracky, Cracky," she cried, "why couln't ye of had 'em while ye was young? Kitty an' Patrick an' Nora an' Mandy all had the masles. Shure an they'll be afraid to bring their washtub here now, I'm fearin'. As if anybody would be fearin' a little thing like masles! Oh well, an' it might well have been diphtheria, while it was at it, I'm thinkin'. You ate this porridge, Cracky darlin', an you'll be fadin' better."

Again she crossed the room, and with her sleeves rolled to her elbows plunged her arms into the soapy lather in the washtub. The steam arose, and, mingled with the smell of the soap, ascended Crack's nostrils. He turned wearily on his side, and half asleep, half awake, thought of the little comrade who had appeared so suddenly through the bushes so many days ago. How regular he had been in his visits. And how Cracky worshipped him. And yesterday he had unthinkingly made him cry. He did not think it would make anyone cry to be called a baby. But Oh, why had he done it? He wondered dismally if the "kid" would be there this morning.

At this moment, a pounding on the outside sent his mother with Kitty and

I was not the first to see her. I saw her first when I was a boy. I was then a student at the University of Paris. I had just finished my studies and I was looking for a place to live. THE HI-YI CLUB HALLOWEEN PARTY

One of the most delightful social events of the year occurred October 31st when East and West High School's accepted from the Hi-Y Club a party invitation to a Hallowe'en party in East High gym. I am a ready pupil, and I seek for those teachers who are ready to give me the best of their knowledge. It is not the mere quantity of knowledge that I seek, but the quality of the character. Nothing is more beautiful than the character of a woman who is devoted to her work. By her example, she teaches more than by her words. She was a remarkable woman. Finely endowed by nature, possessed of unusual attainments, and of a most devoted heart, she was a woman who was a remarkable woman. Athletic Review

Having seen every Thanksgiving Day game since 1906 except two, I am sure that I have seen the best football players who have made football the sterling game it is at West High. At the risk of disagreeing with others, the following men are selected for a place on an All-School West High team.

All players before 1906 are omitted from the list, the writer having no memory of them. If any alumnus disagrees, please write to the Editor.

I. E.—"Al" Lytle (Capt.), '07	R. T.—"Tuhl" Sanders, '11
L. T.—"Sid" Bennett, '15	R. E.—"Fritz" McManus, '11
L. G.—F. Bernard, '13	O. B.—"Frankie" Lundgren, '13
C.—"Champ" Brockway, '15	R. H. B.—"Tubbie" Burke, '13
R. G.—"Ed" Ward, '11	L. H. B.—"Cig" Cigrand, '13
F. B.—"Andy" Gustafson, '20

"Al" Lytle's performance on Thanksgiving, 1906, and on October 11, 1907, against East High, were the best I have ever seen. He was the star of the last High team.

On that day also, East High, with the score 12 to 10 against them, were defeated by a place kick. When the ball was snapped, "Al" threw the ball into the East High line, and the ball went into the end zone.

West High was penalized half way to the goal line, where East High tried to pass the ball. They had only a few yards to go but failed to make it. West High won 12 to 10.

"Fritz" McManus holds credit for his ability to tackle. He was the star of the 1906 team, and his tackling was the best I have ever seen. What Fritz lacked in weight was made up for by his speed.

"Sid" Bennett and Sanders at tackle stopped everything. Once Sanders tackled a player, he was out of the game. He was the star of the Thanksgiving battle, but until the whistle blew he was not a player. If Bennett had been given the same chance, he would have been the star.

Bernard and Ward at guard would have made a seasoned, invincible center wall. Both were strong beyond average, and they were the best I have ever seen.

"Champ" Brockway at center deserves to be called "Champ". He was the star of the 1907 team, and his passing was consistently good.

"Frankie" Lundgren at quarter back has had no equal. He was the star of the 1908 team, and his passing was consistently good. No one ever remembers having seen a better passer.

Cigrand at half back was a real war horse. Drive was his middle name. He was the star of the 1909 team, and his running was consistently good.

The best football player that West High ever had, (that this writer has ever seen) was "Tubbie" Burke. His speed and tackling were the best I have ever seen. He was the star of the 1910 team, and his running was consistently good.

"Andy" Gustafson at full back was the best I have ever seen. He was the star of the 1911 team, and his running was consistently good.

During the years 1912 West High won 10 straight games. In 1913 did the same again—9 straight. In 1914 they did nearly as well. Nearly most of the players were selected from this period. West High has been a successful team for many years.

CLASS OF '14

Six times in eight years the men of the class of 1914 have met at University Heights for a social party. In 1917 and 1918 they met at the University Heights. Attendance has a record of 100%.

R. Foulke presided over the last dinner. Gustave DeWitt was the guest of honor.

Parent-Teachers Association

The West High Parent-Teacher Association extends a greeting to the "E O S".

The P. T. A. is now one of the stable organizations in the school. It has always been "ever-ready" to help the school.

The first meeting in October 1921 was held in the gymnasium. It was held with the High School as they had been doing in the grade.

The annual Harvest Home Supper was held in November. It was a success and $100 added to the treasury.

Various sales were put on by the mothers of the school. They were adding to our fund.

A 'Turkey Dinner' was served by the mothers of the Football Boys. Thanksgiving game. Seventy-five plates were laid. The guests were the football boys who had been regular in attendance at practice. They were very successful from start to finish. There are mothers who will tell you how well the boys did. They were very good. They were very good. They were very good.

The year just closing finds the "West High Band" very successful. They have played many pieces. We are proud of the work they have done. They have been able to do so much.

During the coming year we hope to do as much more.

We wish to express our appreciation to Miss Irene W. who has done in West High so much for the P. T. A.

We believe our efforts have all been toward the betterment of West High. I am a member of the Association and teachers in West High. We are all working for the same goal.

THE CLASS OF 1912

COACH FLETCHER

Heavyweight Football

MOOSEHEART

A very close game ended the opening game. The teams were evenly matched and Mooseheart was the victor by a score of 10 to 0.

OAK PARK

We were defeated by a team that had carried off the state championship from Oak Park. We were defeated by a large score. The absence of several players was the cause of our defeat.

ELGIN

Our first conference game was played at Elgin. Over confidence on the part of the up river team resulted in a defeat. An Elgin fumble in the first quarter soon resulted in a touchdown for the Elgin team. A series of mistakes during the game resulted in a large score for the Elgin team. The Elgin team had many chances for touchdowns but they were not taken. The Elgin team was defeated by a score of 20 to 0. West Elgin and Britton were also defeated by the Elgin team.

LESTER BALL

EARL NELSON
 Captain-elect Nelson has played at end for the last two seasons. His primary duty was to pass the ball and also to break up the interference was only half of what he could do. He did the other half in the Thanksgiving game.

HOWARD VINCENT
 "Farmer" was always right there when it came to picking the holes. He was one of our chief ground gainers, but we will not deny his ability to tackle.

EARL NELSON

LESLIE TALLMADGE
 Leslie's experience of the previous season was a big factor. It was no harder for him to play against a 200 pounder than a man of only 150 pounds. He was one of our best tacklers, and one who fought as hard when we were losers as when we were winners. We will be glad to see the biggest man of the team back next year.

HOWARD VINCENT

LESTER BALL
 It is unnecessary to say anything about "Pete's" ability. Our only regret is that he will not be with us another year. After playing only one season, at quarterback, he was elected Captain. This season he was shifted to halfback, and in that position, was chosen as an all-conference man.

HAROLD GUSLER

HAROLD GUSLER
 "Gus" was right there when it came to fighting high school football was new to him, but he fitted in at tackle like a veteran. We hope to see him in the lineup next year.

L. FLEMING

LAWRENCE FLEMING
 "Law" plays his next two seasons here he will be first to go with the team without a doubt. His school pastime was running down punts, and "nailing" the man in his tracks.

HOWARD CLANCY

HOWARD CLANCY
 Clancy could always be depended upon to do some first class kicking. He could always gain a few yards whenever he had the signal to do so. He has two more seasons to play.

FRANK CARROLL

FRANK CARROLL
 Frank did not hold down a regular position on the team, but played well at guard or tackle when he was called upon. He will not be back next season.

CLYDE CIGRAND

CLYDE CIGRAND
Although "Cigie" was one of the lightest men on the team, he was always able to gain a few yards somewhere, either thru the line or around the end. He had to spend one season in illness on account of the semester ruling, but he still has another year.

HENRY ENGLESON
"Hank" never let anybody get past him—if he could help it. He was inexperienced at first, but he quickly learned. We will hope to see him again next season.

ROBERT CRANI

ROBERT CRANI
"Bob's" weight ought to give him a regular berth next year. He played at guard or center whenever he was needed. In 1910 he was a footballer, and we expect to see him hold the reputation.

JOHN SCHROPELL
"Johnny" finished second season last year, and next fall he will probably be seen at center, a position which he has held for two seasons. He was one of our best men on the defense, and was chosen all-conference center on the second team.

DEWAYNE JONES

DEWAYNE JONES

We hope to see Jones at a regular position next year. He played at end at different times during last season, and ought to be a first class man after a little more experience

FREDERICK ROBOTHAM

"Fritz" will be back next year, probably fullback, a position which he held most of the time this year. He could always smash thru the opposing line for three or four yard

FREDERICK ROBOTHAM

ELMER KINST

Although Kinst was not always seen in the line-up, he was a good ground gainer when called upon to carry the ball from a half back position

JOHN HUCKO

We'll have to give "Johnny" a lot of credit when it comes to calling the signals. He never starred in any particular game, but never failed to do his best in every game. When next season arrives everybody will miss our little quarterback.

J. Hucko

ELWOOD SCHNEIDER

ELWOOD SCHNEIDER

Schneider was "right there" when it came to spilling the opponent who was carrying the ball. He played well at guard this season, but will not be back in a red and blue uniform again.

RUDOLPH JOHNSON

We were fortunate in having a new man like "Rudy". When it came to kicking off, there wasn't a man in the conference who surpassed him. He could drop kick too, but luck was against him on several occasions. He has two years more to play.

PLAINFIELD

Our lightweights opened the season by holding the heavy first team to a 20-0 victory. The W. A. backfield was unable to get a foothold in the defense.

ELGIN

A 14-0 victory against Elgin was an encouraging opening for the lights. The W. A. offensive was far superior to that of Elgin. Berris and Stare did the scoring.

JOLIET

A goal, unfortunately missed, lost a 7-6 game. Joliet's forward passes gained considerable ground. Slowness on the offense lost many chances to gain ground.

ROCKFORD

Our defense was not strong enough to hold the fast opposing backfield. Our defense was unable to get a foothold in the offense.

FREEPORT

A 14-0 victory against Freeport was a very encouraging one for the lights. The W. A. offensive was far superior to that of Freeport.

DEKALB

A snow covered field prevented us from a victory which we deserved. Secker and Benbow were the chief factors in our impenetrable defense, but our backfield was not able to get a foothold. 0-0 was the result.

EAST AURORA

Playing in a field covered by a foot of mud was far from pleasant. We were defeated by a small margin, but the whole team must be given credit for its showing. An effort was made to defeat the 1st team, but the defense was unable to get a foothold in the offense.

EAST AURORA

A crowd of 2000 saw our fighters lose a heartbreaking game to the East Aurora team. A lead of 5 to 4 at the end of the first half, after which it was proved that W. A.'s speed was superior to E. A.'s, but long shots by E. A. players kept W. A. with something to think about at the end of the half. The score at the end of the second period was E. A. 16—W. A. 7. At the end of the third period W. A. had scored 17, while E. A. had also scored 10 points. Consistent shooting by Clancy, Fleming, and Ball brought a 26-26 tie with one and one half minutes to play. The victory followed by two E. A. baskets, and it looked like a cinch for them, but a last second free throw by W. A. players almost overtook E. A.

NAPERVILLI

Hucko, Ball, and Cigrand led the scoring that defeated Naperville. Fortunately the half-score of free throws we missed had no bearing on the win.

The Tournament

NAPERVILLI

Altho we had defeated Naperville decisively the previous week, it had no bearing on their tournament game with W. A. They led through the first half, but W. A. staged a comeback, and defeated them by a 26-27 score. The final score was W. A. 26—Naperville 27.

LAGRANGE

Hailed as a probable winner of the tournament, LaGrange, played a hard match for West High. The dribbling of Cigrand was done in college style. The final score was W. A. 25—LaG. 18.

4. How you disappointed us. What you did. What other things we expected when you were our boss. And then never even a sign of a speech.

Don't get old too fast, girls. New York stores are full of 12-gauge, 100-year-old pins and rings with target vector $\mathbf{y} = [\mathbf{y}_1, \mathbf{y}_2, \dots, \mathbf{y}_N]^T$.

Mr. Pease: Do not forget to mention to Mr. Aldrich that we have a letter from the American people in regard to the proposed tariff on "Quinine Sulfate." Mr. Aldrich should get for them a reduction of that tariff.

BONDS

For Safe Investment

There is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that your money is invested in safe bonds

A sound bond pays interest in periods of financial stress just as in normal times. Corporations may not pay dividends although they continue to pay interest on their bonds. The profits from a private business may decline, but good bonds of Corporations, Municipalities and Governments keep on paying interest. As long as the financial structure of the world holds together the owners of sound and properly safe-guarded bonds can be well assured of the security of their principal and interest

We have specialized for ten years in the purchase and sale of carefully selected bonds. During this time we have bought many millions of dollars in bonds which have since proved safe investments for our customers

We should like to discuss your investment problems with you

Safety of Principal is our first consideration.

An official of the city of Chicago writes regarding two American double-acting pumps: "The efficiency of the ten-inch pump was 76% on the ten-inch and 70% on the twelve-inch. Both pumps were in operation the latter part of 1908 and have given continuously good service ever since."

Every American Pump carries with it a straight-forward guarantee of efficiency—fifty years' experience, a half century of design and construction have made us certain of the value of our pumps.

Your Home is What You Make It

*A Joyful Possession or only
A Protection from the Elements*

A sun parlor and sleeping porch, yes!

But even though your building plans do not contemplate a sun parlor or sleeping porch—any room can be made to include their advantages by use of Air-Way Multifold Windows.

Air-Way provides for a full opening of any width—the windows fold back out of the way—no interference with screens or draperies. They may be completely or partially closed in an instant. Air-Way hardware insures against rattle and other bothersome features.

If you expect to build a new home or remodel the old one, you should know all about Air-Way.

As far back as 1830 the founders of the house of Rathbone, Sard & Company chose the word "Acorn" as their trade mark. They determined that this trade mark should stand for the highest class of designs, materials and workmanship.

All through the ninety-two years of Rathbone, Sard & Company's experience of building stoves, they have tried to see how good and not how cheap they could make them. That such a policy is wise is proven by the constant, ever-increasing demand for "Acorn" Stoves and Ranges.

NOTE: This announcement answers two questions that big employers repeatedly ask, viz: (1) What makes LaSalle men so practical? (2) Why don't more men train with LaSalle for the high pay positions in business?

The LaSalle Problem Method

— and how it successfully condenses a lifetime of experience into a few months of study

A question has blocked action on the part of many thoughtful men in the salary fields. They have asked themselves whether training gained at home by correspondence might not prove to be mere "book learning"—impractical—unmarketable.

We have no fault to find with this question—it is a natural one. The burden of our criticism rests on the man who permits himself to be held back by a thought seeking further enlightenment.

For when more than 350,000 men have trained with LaSalle and found bigger, better things thru this training there must be sound reasons for their success.

There are reasons. They lie in the LaSalle Problem Method of imparting—not "book learning"—but real, practical, business experience.

A knowledge of principles is one thing. The ability to apply and use them is another. The LaSalle Problem Method does this by one factor and

That's why business men place such a premium on experience—it safeguards investments.

Now stretch your imagination a trifle. Suppose you decided to take up as your life work—accountancy—say.

guides, several high grade accountants—men of national reputation.

With these men instructing you in proper principles—then, you yourself exercising your own judgment in handling transactions and solving problems as they arose in your daily work—do you get the idea? You would be acquiring experience right along with the bed rock fundamentals of the profession.

Sitting in the chair of authority—dealing with actual business—learning by actual experience—correcting your errors—guiding you aright through the ramifying situations of the entire accounting field and making you make good every step of the way—mind—not in a class room, but right in a business office where you would be actually doing the work you were training for.

—wouldn't you, at the end of a year or so in this situation be much farther ahead than men who had spent years seeking the same knowledge in the old, hard, "find out for yourself" way?

You can answer these questions—your good sense tells you—certain and certain—able and capable of handling down any situation the accounting field offered.

And that is why the LaSalle Problem Method makes practical men. Simply because the procedure outlined above is followed—exactly.

help you are located here in Chicago.

Nevertheless, under the LaSalle Problem Method you are actually occupying the position of a trained man in the accounting field—irrespective of what you are acquiring.

watchful eyes and helpful guidance of men big in your chosen field.

that you are not only a thoroughly trained man but an experienced man—you know the rock principles and you know the men—all—they are familiar to you in your hands.

A LaSalle man can walk in any where with confidence. He does not feel the uncertainty and fear that arise when one faces the new and unknown. Under the Problem Method he has explored his chosen field on his own feet—the questions, the problems, the difficulties—he has met, faced and

His experience makes him know pay, the duties of that position are an old, familiar story.

There are only two ways to get it. One is the old slow, uncertain way. The man who chooses to go along by picking it up bit by bit as he goes along—sure as he had anticipated. For all the "bits of knowledge" he sought may not have short, sure and certain. It lies thru the LaSalle Problem Method.

Thus we condense into months experience which it takes most men a lifetime to gain.

The LaSalle Problem Method gives you self-confidence—practical, usable knowledge—because it makes you an experienced man.
